David Coughlin, '06, Evening Division

Current Practice Area: Business/Corporate Representation

First Career: Sales, Marketing, Management

Sassoon Cymrot
Partner / Of Counsel

In 2003 Mr. Coughlin came to Suffolk Law after 15 years of prosperity in commercial sales, mostly in electronic security systems. He had a desire to increase his professional profile and learn more about the law. In business he interacted with and even hired a number of lawyers. And each transaction that he arranged represented legal risks and opportunities. Mr. Coughlin wanted to know more about these risks and opportunities. As an attorney, he feels that he has an all-access pass to explore these risks and opportunities in detail.

Mr. Coughlin started at Suffolk during the day but finished in the Evening Division. He served on the SBA and re-established the newspaper, Dicta. Since then he has been fortunate enough to serve as a senior in-house counsel in the same industry that he flourished in before law school. He has even had the pleasure of hiring a few Suffolk Law grads to work for him.

Recently, his company moved its legal and finance functions to Omaha and, he decided to stay in Boston. This has allowed Mr. Coughlin to pursue his dream of being a partner at Sassoon & Cymrot, a medium sized law firm run by two Suffolk Law alumni. He looks forward to the opportunity to share my experiences with current students.

Previous Work Experience: Corporate Counsel for security technology division of a $14B international company. Prior to law school, 15 years in sales, marketing, and management.

William Levine, '78, Day Division

Current Practice Area: Mediation/Arbitration and Family Law

Past Practice Area: Family law

Lee & Levine LLP

Partner

Mr. Levine has 33 years of experience in family law litigation and mediation. He is leaving his law firm in January and starting a two person all mediation/arbitration practice in Westwood and Northampton MA. His current practice focuses predominantly on divorce and related matters, including property, support, custody, paternity, antenuptial agreements, equity and other litigation, mediation, and arbitration matters.

A graduate of Northwestern University (1974) and Suffolk University Law School (1978), Mr. Levine was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1978, and is also admitted to the Bar of the United States Supreme Court, the United States Tax Court, the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit and the United States District Court, District of Massachusetts. Before entering the private practice of law, Mr. Levine served as a child abuse and neglect litigator for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Social Services.

Mr. Levine is identified in every edition of Naifeh & Smith's The Best Lawyers in America in the field of Family Law since 1995. He was identified as one of "The Top 100" in Worth Magazine's guide to the nation's best lawyers (December 2005). He has received recognition as a top lawyer in Boston Magazines' Law & Politics Massachusetts Super Lawyers, since its 2005 inception; and he has also been named a top lawyer in Boston Magazine's Law and Politics New England Super Lawyers since 2007, when it began. In Boston Magazine's "The Best Lawyers" edition (October 2002) Mr. Levine was identified as one of only four Family Law practitioners. According to the authors of the last noted recognition, his selection followed interviews with hundreds of lawyers, judges, clients and others in the legal system, the stated determinative criteria being: "They are very good at what they do. They are ethical. And they meet the elusive third measure of quality: customer satisfaction. More than mere technicians, they are counselors who care."

Mr. Levine is committed to the selection and implementation of that dispute resolution process which is best suited to each individual client's needs, increasingly by the use of mediation and arbitration processes. In all matters, he attempts to utilize his skills, knowledge, integrity and reputation in a manner that promotes his clients' interests while protecting the ability of the restructured family to function as well as possible after the conclusion of his services.
